

Corey Atkinson & Dimensions of Leadership Presentations

Corey is a keynote speaker, entrepreneur and leader - who studies, practices and is an expert in captivating groups of people - three or 3,000. A masterful communicator, he uses all the presentation senses – sight, sound, touch – to paint pictures with his words and combine analogies that connect with everyone in the room.

Corey has been delivering presentations on leadership and facilitating training and team building events for over 10 years – throughout North America. His vast experiences make him a success at any event - as an opening keynote speaker, after lunch refresher or featured presenter at a closing ceremony.

His initiative and energy alone has catapulted him from one walk of life to another. This has resulted in him working with many different people across many industries - through presentations or training programs - to discover their own Dimensions of Leadership. Corey's energy, humour, but most of all his charisma, makes him a natural teacher who brings the business of life to the business of work.

Corey has delivered hundreds of presentations on leadership, from micro and macro perspectives.

His mission for all of his presentations:

“ To communicate, demonstrate and foster leadership. ”

Educational & Entertaining.
Interactive & Insightful.

These are just some of the words that describe Corey Atkinson – personally and professionally. When in front of groups of any size, Corey has an amazing ability to make you feel like he is talking to you - one on one.

You will never find Corey standing behind a podium or table with a projector on it - to speak to his audience. A constant mover at the front of the room, Corey gets people on stage or the entire audience on their feet. To ensure a key message is clear, he leaves the stage and goes right into the audience and speaks to them - creating the impression that he is having a one-on-one conversation with each person in the room.

All of the Dimensions of Leadership Presentations are dynamic and engaging – packed with memorable stories, group activities and powerful insights. He connects with all listeners, whether he is talking about our own dimension of leadership, growing an organization or developing people. He shows that ultimately, we all want the same thing when it comes to leadership: not to be different, but to make a difference.

Dimensions of Leadership Presentations

Entertaining & Educational

The Dimensions of Leadership Presentations are truly special because they constantly focus on the audience by getting them involved in the presentation or story being told. This makes Corey's style and message distinct: he interacts with the audience members and keeps them involved with him or one another other.

"Corey is very insightful and has an amazingly unique way of getting his point across. His energy and enthusiasm for leadership made the presentation one of the best I have ever seen."
